CLIENT INFORMATION FORM

QUALIFICATIONS

The therapist providing services is licensed in the State of Kansas as a Licensed Masters Social Worker, License #6473. She is currently fulfilling state requirements for licensure as a Licensed Specialist Clinical Social Worker under the supervision of Monty W. Miller, LSCSW, of Monty W. Miller Counseling and Consultation Services at 913-593-3032.

She received her Master of Social Work degree from the University of Kansas. In early 2007, she completed two classes at Calvary Theological Seminary, Biblical Counseling and Counseling Women.

She will incorporate Christian principles if so desired by the client.

SESSION FORMAT

Research has shown that the nature and severity of the client's presenting problems usually determine the length of therapy. Treatment can range from a few sessions to several months of therapy. The estimated length of a client's treatment will be determined in a collaborative discussion between client and therapist. Regular reviews of the client's progress and continuing need for therapy will be discussed with the client. Clients may leave therapy at any time, but the therapist asks that they agree to discuss the termination of therapy at a regular therapy session, rather than by phone.

CONFIDENTIALITY

The information clients provide in therapy is confidential. The therapist will not reveal any information about clients or their issues, except for professional consultation, without the client's written consent. Any written records about treatment are also confidential. Because of the therapist's legal mandate to report some issues, confidentiality may be broken if a client is found to be a clear and imminent danger to self or others, if he/she reports current abuse of a child or dependent adult, or if the therapist receives a court order to release the client's records.

BENEFITS AND RISKS

Any time individuals seek therapy to work on difficulties within themselves or their personal relationships, there are benefits and risks involved. The benefits can include the ability to handle or cope with specific concerns and/or interpersonal relationships in a healthier way. Clients may also gain a greater understanding of personal, interpersonal, or family goals and values. This new understanding may lead to greater maturity and happiness as an individual, couple or as a family. There may also be other benefits that come as clients work at resolving specific concerns.

However, therapy can be challenging and uncomfortable at times. Remembering and resolving an unpleasant event may cause intense feelings of fear, anger, depression, and frustration. As clients work to resolve personal issues or issues between family members, marital partners, and other persons, they may experience discomfort and an increase in conflict. There may also be changes in their relationships that they had not originally intended.

The therapist will discuss with clients the benefits and risks involved in their particular situations. The therapist encourages ongoing discussions of client's concerns as therapy progresses. Clients are encouraged to discuss with the therapist any concerns they may have as they progress through therapy.

You will be expected to relate not only problems and concerns, but successes and enjoyable experiences as well. At times you may be given homework assignments such as reading, keeping a journal, monitoring your own behavior, practicing a new behavior, etc.

It is important that you regularly and promptly attend scheduled sessions.
